STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Provisos to articles 82 and 170 (3) of the Constitution provide that no fresh readjustment of constituencies can be undertaken untill the figures of the first census taken after the year 2000 are published These provisos were inserted by the Constitution (Forty second Amendment) Act, 1976 as a measure to boost family planning norms Since the first census to be taken after the year 2000 has already begun the constitutional embargo on undertaking fresh delimitation will lapse as soon as the figures of this census are published

2 There have been consistent demands both for and against undertaking the exercise of fresh delimitation Keeping in view the progress of family planning programmes in different parts of the country, the Government, as part of the National Population Policy strategy, recently decided to extend the current freeze on undertaking fresh delimitation up to the year 2026 as a motivational measure to enable the State Governments to pursue the agenda for population stabilisation

3 Government has also decided to undertake readjustment and rationalisation of territorial constituencies in the States without altering the number of seats allotted to each State in the House of the People and Legislative Assemblies of the States, including the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes constituencies, on the basis of the population ascertained at the census for the year 1991 so as to remove the imbalance caused due to uneven growth of population/electorate in different constituencies

4 It is also proposed to refix the number of seats reserved for the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes in the House of the People and the Legislative Assemblies of the States on the basis of the population ascertained at the census for the year 1991

5 The Bill seeks to achieve the aforesaid objects
